Dear Parents / Carers,

World Book Day is fast approaching again and as a school we are looking forward to having a good excuse to share more books and stories with the children.

Countrywide World Book Day seems to have become quite a commercial event and so in order not to put families under unnecessary financial pressure, Lawnside has for the last couple of years had pyjama days for World Book Day to put the focus back on bedtime stories and the wonderful experience that sharing a book can be. With that in mind for our World Book Day we would like children to come in their pjs or onesies and have their favourite book with them to share in school. Last year we had to reschedule due to snow so given the last week's weather please be prepared for all eventualities!

On World Book Day itself we have organised a visit from Theatre of the Widdershins whose imaginative puppet shows never cease to enthral the children and adults alike! Beyond that, PALs have organised a Book Fair to arrive on 20th March for which you should have already received a booklet and the children will be able to use their £1 book voucher for that event. As it is so hard to choose books for children I have put a list of recommended books for different ages on the school website (look in the English section under Curriculum).

We look forward to having a great day in school!
